

John C. Hart Memorial Library

The John C. Hart Memorial Library reserves the right to use photographs, audio and/or visual recordings taken at the library or at any library event, for Library purposes, including marketing efforts. This use includes in print & digital marketing, editorial publication, and/or any other communication format related to the support of the Library's services and mission.

The John C. Hart Memorial Library is a public space, therefore, consent to use passive photos/recordings is assumed upon entering the library or participating in library events. As a courtesy, patrons (especially those accompanying minors) may be consulted before being photographed. If a patron does not wish to be photographed/recorded, the patron must notify the Library staff to that effect.
